

CANADA WATER MASTERPLAN

Our commitment to local communication

March 2019

INTRODUCTION

British Land has been consulting on the Canada Water Masterplan since Spring 2014. We have held over 120 public consultation and outreach events with a total recorded attendance of over 11,000 people, and we regularly send newsletters to c.26,000 local residents, businesses and organisations / groups.

British Land, as a long-term investor in Canada Water, is committed to maintaining an open and honest relationship with the local community, and a continued involvement to ensure the Masterplan can bring benefits and opportunities to the local community. Community engagement is continuing through the planning application period and beyond.

Leading up to and following the planning application submission, we experienced a significant increase in correspondence and requests for information. This increase has been very much welcomed, and we are grateful for people wishing to get involved with the project. However, we were aware that we had been responding in a variety of ways and thought it would be helpful to address this.

Our aim is to ensure that we meet the expectations of people contacting us and that we treat everyone in the same way. To do this we are setting out:

- The ways to contact the Canada Water Masterplan project team
- What will happen to your correspondence
- The timescales for responses
- How this links to social media
- How we will share frequently asked questions (FAQs)
- What will happen during the planning and construction phases
- Privacy and confidentiality
- Contacts for other non-masterplan related queries e.g.: matters relating to the existing buildings managed by British Land

This approach will also help us meet our obligations under the EU General Data Protection Regulations. We will review how this approach is working and consider changes based on the feedback we receive. We would welcome your thoughts on how we could improve our local communications.

MAKING CONTACT

Since we submitted our planning application in May 2018, our commitment to responding to direct questions from the local community remains unchanged, and we ask that the following process is followed for any correspondence with the Canada Water Masterplan project - either via email, letter or phone call. FUTURE COMMUNICATIONS

As the project progresses, and should planning permission be consented, there will be other forms of communication and discussion. Specific guidance will be developed, discussed and shared. An overview of Statutory Consultation and Construction Liaison is provided below, and full details will be confirmed in due course. Please note that continued engagement will not be limited to this, and further details of planned ongoing engagement will be available on our website and through future project updates.

Statutory consultation

- In May 2018 we submitted a hybrid planning application for the Canada Water Masterplan to Southwark Council. Following a period of statutory consultation, we submitted amendments to the planning application in October 2018, to reflect discussions with Southwark Council and to take on board feedback received from local residents, community groups and other interested parties. Further minor changes were submitted in March 2019 following further detailed design work by the project team.

- Anybody can comment on a planning application. All representations on the planning application should be directed to Southwark Council's Planning Division via their online planning register (www.southwark.gov.uk/planningregister). All planning documents are available on Southwark Council's online planning register and can be found by using the case reference 18/AP/1604 or by searching for 'Canada Water Masterplan'. Planning application documents can also be viewed at Canada Water Library.

Construction

- The proposed 'Framework' and 'Detailed first buildings' Construction Management Plans form part of the planning submission and provide more information on the approach to community engagement during construction. (www.southwark.gov.uk/planningregister).
- Full details of our approach to constructing the buildings will be developed and discussed with the community once planning consent for the buildings has been granted and a main contractor has been brought on-board.
- We anticipate this will include a 24-hour point of contact and regular construction liaison meetings and updates as a minimum.
- A clear and accessible communications process will be vital during the construction phases and will be worked up in partnership with local residents in due course.

PRIVACY & CONFIDENTIALITY

- Your personal details will not be shared with any third parties outside of the direct Canada Water Masterplan team or The British Land Company PLC ('British Land'), nor shared publicly.
- We will only add new contacts to the project mailing list if you have positively confirmed that you would like to receive project updates.
- People not already on our database or who have not provided their consent will be asked to confirm that we can keep a record of their opinions and personal details on behalf of the project developers British Land and BL CW Holdings Limited (which is the planning applicant and a British Land group company).
